

General Guidelines For Review

When reviewing the paper, please look at the following five questions which should be the most important items for further decision about the acceptance or rejection of the article:

- 1. Does the subject of the article adjust to the profile of the journal (e.g. does it refer to the qualitative analysis or some social phenomenon research, does it pertain to interpretative sociology etc.)
- 2. Does the article contribute any innovative or important ideas into the analyzed subject?
- 3. Does the article include indispensable and the latest publications in the references? Does it also include classic literature of the subject field?
- 4. Does the article have correct spelling and style, is it intelligible?
- 5. How the article can improve our journal? Is it for example, interesting, controversial or important in any other way for social science enough to raise a question for discussion or inspire to further research/ consideration?
